

Discover what holds you back from accepting leadership in your life.

Discover how your negative feelings and judgements get in the way of healthy communication that is essential to generative leadership.

"For a while, I found it difficult to accept that someone else wasn't causing me to be angry, to be frustrated... but what a rebirth it was to understand that it was my selfishness and my beliefs that was holding me back!"

Witness the importance of clear communication, and methods to improve clarity.

Do some meaningful exercises to overcome the blocks and fears to successful leading.

Testimonials

"I staffed the very first "Soul of Leadership" Workshop in Milwaukee. I found it to be a very empowering day! I saw men open up to each other about how their lives were working and not working. I witnessed "Ah-Hah's" happening among the participants and staff regularly throughout the day. I highly recommend this workshop to men and women interested in exploring how their leadership can be accessed in a more soulful manner. You won't be disappointed!" Rick Broniec, MA Educator, Writer and Workshop Leader.

"I enjoyed the interacting in the spirit of mutual support.... Excellent facilitation by committed leaders" Lynn King, Alberta Government Human Resources Training

"This workshop showed me how I could master emotions like fear, anger etc. and use these to increase my personal effectiveness as a leader". Jim Campbell, Youth Worker

Register now to reserve your spot:

<http://www.gofortheroar.com>

More great awareness!

Experience facilitation of processes that create trust and good team work. Leaders build and hold trust through being congruent and honest.

"I used to just assume that if I was the boss that people would listen and do what I say. It was a lot of work to learn different habits that created the trust that has made a huge difference in my leadership."

Emotional Intelligence awareness changes the way you see and interact in the world

Upcoming Go For The Roar Workshops:

<http://www.gofortheroar.com>

Chicago	Phoenix
San Diego	Cincinnati
Salt Lake City	Los Angeles
Dallas	Atlanta
St. Louis	New York
Orlando	Tucson

The Head, Heart & Soul of Leadership Workshop

is a one day journey into why you make the choices you do, relating to leadership in your life. In one day you will:

Learn that mission is at the heart of every leader worth following!
This workshop will help you uncover your mission in life

"Until I really experienced the essence of my mission in life, I mean really felt it in my bones. I didn't even realise that I didn't have a clue"

Learn 8 ways to create awareness and focus at the beginning of a meeting that we call container building

"A surprising simple truth, that a little creativity makes a big difference at the beginning of meetings"

Learn to recognise powerfully how you choose to see events a certain way and then create what you are comfortable with, to feel safe.

"This was a real eye-opener for me. What I believed was that I did not have a choice about many happenings in my life, when really I did! And as I learned to communicate that, others followed suit and took responsibility with inspired creativity!"

Participate in meaningful feedback exercises that increase your capacity to listen
—a hallmark of a great leader

Un-attributed Quotes on these two pages are from one of the workshop leaders, Gleb Gladwin

Includes

- busy day of processes
- Emotional Intelligence training
- nutritious lunch
- experienced facilitators
- free parking
- participant list
- post workshop mentoring
- insights into being a better person, leader, boss, parent, spouse
- free "soul food"!

Tuition

$225

Discount for early registration!

Register now to reserve your spot. Online

<http://www.gofortheroar.com>

Phone: 801-865-5899

For workshop information call
Gleb Gladwin CPCC, or
Dr. Kai Sorensen PH.D. email:
leaders@gofortheroar.com

A Question for Modern Leaders

Are you engaging the leadership roles in your life that will create joy and the legacy that you want to leave your children with?

Or are you letting others create your reality?

Have you compromised your dreams and your ideals to satisfy your desire for money and possessions? Have you sold your soul?

If so, you have plenty of company out there. These days, most men and women have made the choice to live their lives according to a vision that is derived from a consumer driven paradigm-keeping up with the Jones's rules their decisions.

Because of this, many men and women have lost their vision; they don't know their mission and have therefore lost their passion for living!

There are many programs out there that "teach" people how to lead, how to organize groups, how to run meetings and resolve conflicts, but the real gift of this seminar is the experiential part. Yes, it takes knowledge to be an effective leader, but the connection to the heart is what really impacts others!

The leaders we remember and admire, and even revere, were those who lit a passion within us. Those who made us feel incredibly special, and respected us enough to challenge us to greater heights.

Those leaders brought their heart and soul to us, their passion, compassion, energy for life, and excitement for the next minute, next hour, next day and next week!

Copyright 2005

Go For The Roar Workshops L.L.C.

An experiential leadership training for men and women

Every Saturday workshop runs from 8:00 am – 6 pm SHARP!

Leaders, true leaders, generously offer you their soul. Without Soul in Leadership, there is only tyranny.

The Head, Heart & Soul of Leadership